Explore the convenience and safety a home intercom system can provide... When you choose to make an investment in a home/audio and video intercom system, you want the certainty that it will cater to your particular requirements – you can be sure that the Deltacom range of intercoms has an option to suit you.

Take a look at the different features we can offer you...

Ensure your peace of mind by being able to monitor your children from where they are sleeping or playing. With the voice activated monitoring feature*, you won't be disturbed until the noise level from the monitored room station reaches a level that deserves your attention. If you are monitoring your baby from another room and your baby starts crying, the station will detect the increase in sound level and activate the voice monitor. If your baby is happily gurgling, the monitor will not activate, leaving you undisturbed to continue working or sleeping.

NB* Available on the DJ1000 model only.

Children Friendly

When your children are playing, the hands-free reply feature means you can communicate freely with them – they can answer you when you call without having to press any buttons.

For added safety, you can disable the door release feature from the children's room stations, preventing them from opening the door to strangers. In the DJ500/1000 model there are two different door bell chimes that may be selected to help you identify if your visitor is located at the back entrance or front entrance.

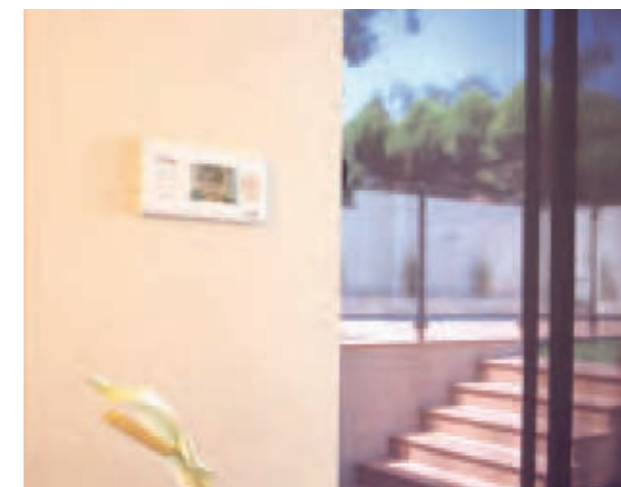

See who is at your front door before you speak to them...

Not only can you talk with the person at your front door – the monitor/camera unit can show you who is at your front door.

Wherever your camera is placed, the signal comes back to the monitor for you to view. Keeping your family safe and secure from unwanted visitors.

Control at your fingertips

Make sure those who need to get up are up on time, and those who can sleep in are left undisturbed. When the master station alarm clock has been preset, activate the alarm clock feature in your room station to receive the wake up call.

With "sleep mode", you can program your room station to play music when you're ready for bed and automatically switch off after a certain time elapses.

The Master Station has a digitally tuned AM/FM radio. Press one button to listen to your favourite radio station from any room within your home. Each room station retains individual control of volume. You have the ability to connect your home music system to the intercom units, and have your own CD's piped throughout the house.

With the Master station, you can speak privately from any room station to any other room station. By using the "selective room calling" feature, people in other rooms will not be disturbed.

Choose a station that suits you...

Depending on the model you require, your Deltacom intercom system will be made up from a combination of the following station types:

The Door Station

The door station unit can be mounted either horizontally or vertically. The guest will be welcomed with a pleasant door chime. Available in white, ivory and metal finish (gold, black and stainless steel). Optional canopy available.

The Room Station

The room stations are an integral part of the intercom system and are available in three different models series 200, 500 and 1000 to meet your communication and feature requirements. Adjusted volume control, privacy and hands-free replay inclusions for all models.

The DJ500/DJ1000 system provides you with additional features including the ability to perform selective room calling, allowing private room to room conversations. Available in white or ivory

The Master Station

With the addition of the master station added features include digitally tuned radio with alarm, door release, chime, volume control, child monitoring, auxiliary music input for piping your selected music through your intercoms and selective room calling. Available in white or ivory.

NB Selective room calling feature available in DJ500 & DJ1000 systems.
